Vaccine news

Cryptosporidium vaccine

Cryptosporidium is the most common cause of calf diarrhoea making up 33% of cases. Seen in 7-14 day old calves and more common in winter than summer. Bovilis cryptium is the new vaccine currently available on a Special Import Certificate.

The vaccine alongside some management changes has shown to be very effective at controlling this parasite.

For more information, please speak to your vet.

Blue Tongue

You will probably be aware there have been new cases of the notifiable disease, Blue Tongue, in the last few days. The good news is that Defra's Secretary of State has permitted the use of 3 unauthorised bluetongue serotype 3 (BTV-3) vaccines within the United Kingdom, subject to licence. Vaccine from one manufacturer will be available from the end of this week and others in the next 3-4 weeks.

More information of vaccination is available from us and here – <https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/bluetongue-serotype-3-btv-3-vaccine-permits>
